

Crowd Building

Generate Attendance at Your Event

Crowd-building calls drive constituents to events and generate fast “counts” of attendees. The calls work on short notice. For a town hall, a rally, or in front of the mall, Spoken Hub will find your supporters and alert them so they know about the event: when to go, why to go, and especially where to go.

Spoken Hub has worked with the full spectrum of political and corporate grassroots campaigns to reach activists and grow crowds.

Benefits

- Find people who agree with your public policy position.
- Build your audience quickly. We will deliver an auto call within hours so you can generate crowds on one or two days’ notice.
- Plan ahead. Crowd-building auto calls allow your audience to respond to let you know if they are coming and, where appropriate, if they need a ride. Sending a blast email won’t tell you how many people to plan for at your event.
- Communicate urgent updates. When event plans evolve and venues or start-times change, an auto call is the best way to provide supporters with timely new information.
